Nine people hurt in crash

NINE people were taken to Milton Keynes Hospital after a crash between a car and a bus.

South Central Ambulance service, firefighters and police attended the collision between an Audi and a Arriva bus in Millers Way, Stacey Bushes, around 11.20am yesterday.

The nine people were all taken to Milton Keynes Hospital but none of them had serious injuries.

Emergency services cleared oil and diesel from the road.

It remained closed until 2.20pm when both the vehicles were removed.

£30m multi-storey plans 1,400 extra parking bays

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A PROPOSAL has been announced for a new £30million multi-storey car park in central Milton Keynes.

The plan is for the current John Lewis surface level car park in Marlborough Street to be transformed into a modern multi-storey facility with more than 1,400 new car parking spaces.

The joint owners of thecentre:mk, Hermes Real Estate and Australian Super, came up with the idea after shoppers and retailers identified parking as the biggest single issue in the city centre. The multi-storey car park will have a pay on departure system which will mean that visitors will not have to predict how long they intend to stay for as soon as they arrive - encouraging people to spend longer visiting the shops.

It is said its design will reflect the unique character of central Milton Keynes and the shopping centre's status as a listed building.

James Cons, of Leslie Jones Architects which will be designing the facility, said: "We have taken great care to design a car park which complements thecentre:mk. A regular geometric design has been deliberately chosen to suit the building's context.

"A mix of materials – from white pre-cast concrete to aluminium – will create a visually interesting design with strong vertical elements and an interesting texture."

The joint owners of thecentre:mk will finance the £30m cost from its own resources without relying on any investment from the public purse.

James Waugh, centre director, said the joint owners had received the message loud and clear that the city needed more car parking spaces and were delighted to put this proposal to residents.

He said: "If the centre of Milton Keynes is to be reinvigorated, more and better car parking needs to be provided. The shopping centre sits at the heart of Milton Keynes and so we are really pleased to come up with a plan to provide a solution to one of the biggest challenges the city currently faces.

"The proposed location will boost the shopping and leisure core of the city as well as supporting the nearby Cultural Quarter, with its theatre and art gallery.

"I am keen for as many people as possible to come along, see the plans and tell us what they think."

People are invited to view and comment on the proposal at a public exhibition this Saturday from 10am to 5pm in thecentre:mk.

Hermes Real Estate and Australian Super will shortly submit their plan to Milton Keynes Council.

Football banning order for attack on steward

A MAN was given a three year football banning order for an unprovoked assault on an MK Dons steward.

Aiden Dobson, 26, of Ash Grove, Coventry, pleaded guilty to assault by beating at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court last month. At the same court on Thursday he was also sentenced to a two year community order and fined £310.

Dobson kicked safety steward Carl Berry, 32, when he fell to the ground while dealing with Coventry fans during the league match in November last year. PC Jimmy O'Brien, stadiummk liaison officer, said: "Assaults on staff and stewards at football matches will not be tolerated."

Raising awareness: Casey, 13, shaved her hair off in support of cancer victims. Her mum Amanda will receive her test results tomorrow

Casey's close shave in support of cancer victims

BOLD Casey Poole surprised her mother when she began shaving off her hair to raise awareness of cancer.

Casey, 13, says that she wants to show cancer victims they are not alone - and was inspired to do so as her mother Amanda, 30, finds out tomorrow whether a lump in her breast is cancerous.

The teen, a student at Milton Keynes Academy, has already won the praise of her mother, who told MK NEWS it was something of a surprise when her daughter shared her plans.

Amanda, from Netherfield, said: "She text me on Friday to say she wanted to shave her hair off.

"When I arrived home she had begun cutting it all off and told me that she had to finish!

"I'm so proud of how brave she has been, because choosing to have no hair at her age is a big thing."

Casey added: "I've had hugs from people saying how brave I have been, and my picture has had more than 300 likes on Facebook."

Housing policy storing trouble 'for the future'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council has written a letter to the Government expressing its 'serious concern' that their policies are 'storing up trouble for the future' for affordable housing.

In a letter addressed to Nick Boles MP, the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for planning, the council accuses the Government of implementing policies that make it difficult to secure adequate affordable housing in new developments.

The authority currently tries to secure 30 per cent affordable housing on all estates to be constructed in the city.

But the letter raises the council's 'major concerns' that legislative changes now give greater weight to the financial viability of new developments, a move they say has 'swung the balance too far in favour of developers'.

The document, which was written by Cllr David Hopkins - portfolio holder for planning and economic development - says: "We are frequently confronted with applications that show a development is only viable if affordable housing is greatly reduced. The inability to secure full funding for essential infrastructure or adequate levels of affordable housing means that new development is having a negative impact on the quality of life of existing communities - all of which is storing up trouble for the future."

A reply from Mr Boles declines an offer to meet Cllr Hopkins, but says: "We have been clear that the only grounds to reconsider previously agreed affordable housing contributions are economic viability and this needs to be evidenced and demonstrated for review."

Research by housing charity Shelter, which was released in October last year, showed that just 14 per cent of homes for sale in the city are affordable for a 'typical' family hoping to get on the first rung of the property ladder.

Cllr David Hopkins welcomed the reply from Mr Boles, but said there 'were still concerns'.

Andrew Pakes, Labour's parliamentary candidate for Milton Keynes South, said: "This shows the true extent of the contradictions in policy with councillors and ministers desperately trying to pass the buck for the drop in affordable homes."

Six years extra for jail 'jihad'

A DOUBLE killer will spend an extra six years in jail for his part in a terrifying 'jailhouse jihad' at one of Britain's highest security prisons.

Fuad Awale, 26, had already been sentenced to a minimum 38 years in jail after being convicted of murdering teenagers Mohamed Abdi Farah and Amin Ahmed Ismail in Fishermead in 2010.

And he will spend six more years behind bars at the end of his life sentence, after trying to take over HMP Full Sutton, near York, four days after the barbaric murder of Lee Rigby in Woolwich.

He stormed out of prayer service after the imam offered condolences to the soldier's family and visited every Muslim prisoner in a bid to start an Islamic uprising.

Alongside fellow prisoner Feroz Khan, also 26, they targeted prison guard Richard Thompson, believing him to be ex-British military, and demanded the release of hate preacher Abu Qatada.

Awale repeatedly threatened to behead Mr Thompson, and was convicted for making threats to kill, but cleared of false imprisonment.

Sentencing Awale at the Old Bailey on Monday, Judge Michael Toposki QC said: "The level of threats repeated was truly appalling and caused great anguish."

Manure misery for scooter user

Taking matters into her own hands: Susan Olney has had to scoop up the horse muck on the path herself

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

RIDERS are to be asked to clean up after their horses when they leave mess on the road connecting Woburn Sands and Bow Brickhill.

Bow Brickhill resident Susan Olney regularly goes along the path on her mobility scooter to visit friends in Woburn Sands.

She is constantly met by piles of horse mess on the path which she has to pick up herself with a shovel to clear the way so she doesn't have to ride through it.

In the past Susan has had to ask a friend to remove the muck from the wheels on her mobility scooter.

"I would like horse riders to have the decency to ride their horses on the grass so that they do all of their pooping there.

"Every dog owner has to stop to pick up their mess, so why can't a horse rider?

"It affects me a lot when there is a lot of horse poop on the pavement and this has been going on for years.

"It gets in all the tread and it's not nice."

Horse rider, and owner of MK eventing centre, Fiona Gifkins said: "As a rider myself my understanding of the law is you are not supposed to go on the pavement unless there is a dangerous situation on the road. It is very difficult if someone is riding to then go back and pick up the droppings. I can fully understand this lady's upset. However, is it a dangerous road that forces riders to use the path?"

A council spokesman said: "We are aware of the issue and are advising residents to contact us so that we can send out a crew to clear up the area.

"In addition we are working with the local stables to ask them to speak to their riders about minimising the issue and avoid riding on the footpaths."

Crime lowest in 25 years

CRIME in Thames Valley is at its lowest for 25 years, but sexual offences are on the rise.

According to statistics released yesterday by the force there were 127,497 crimes recorded from April 2013 until the end of March 2014. This is a reduction of five per cent and means recorded crime is at its lowest since 1989.

Domestic burglary is also at a 40 year low. There were 5,668 dwelling burglaries last year, which is 20 per cent less than the year before. It means there were 1,401 fewer victims in this period. Theft of vehicle is also down by 10 per cent to 1,892 – resulting in 206 fewer victims.

Violence against the person figures remained stable and there was a rise in recorded sexual offences from 1,995 in 2013 to 2,618 this year.

Deputy Chief Constable Francis Habgood told MK NEWS: "Inevitably Jimmy Savile investigations have affected the sexual offences recorded. Offences taken place decades ago have been brought to our attention and are then recorded that year."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

Supermarket snobbery

IN response to Herbert's comment, April 2, have you been to Aldi? Are you that much of a snob that you think only "poor people" shop there? Perhaps you should pop along to Bradwell Common and take a look at the BMWs, Audis, Mercedes Benz, Lexus and even Bentleys that have graced their car park. Even though I have nothing against Waitrose, there is nothing wrong with saving money, as many obviously do.

The car park at Aldi is often overflowing onto the road and surrounding streets, so it's about time another was built to ease the strain on this one. I would also remind you that in Europe, Aldi is on par with the likes of Tesco etc. Downmarket it is not.

Something in the air

ON page 13 of MK NEWS dated April 2 an article entitled 'Air pollution is major concern' stated that MEP Keith Taylor is calling for more investment in sustainable transport after air pollution contributed to the deaths of 85 people last year and he believes that people should be encouraged to walk or cycle and use sustainable transport.

However on page 4 a letter from a reader 'Dons score top crowd' noted that 20,500 people attended the MK Dons' match against Wolves on the previous Saturday and it was not surprising that Bletchley roads were jammed with cars. And so I presume these cars were churning out the pollution that will be responsible for more deaths next year? But why let cars anywhere near the stadium on match day? The present road system can't cope. We keep being told how good our transport system is so why not provide an alternative?

EU's a committed club

I READ with sadness Mark Lancaster's Focus (April 2). He seems to forget the Treaty of Rome upon which our relationship with the EU is predicated. This begins with the six nations determined to lay the foundations of an ever-closer union among the people of Europe.

Ever-closer union means we cannot take a step back, repatriate powers or renegotiate backwards.

It does not even allow us to stand still. We are committed by membership of this club to always seek ways to give up more of our Sovereignty.

If Mark is to be honest with his Euro-scepticism, he has to accept that the only choice is to leave the EU and from outside negotiate a 'carefully managed relationship' - one that we are free to manage in the way of our free choice.

It also seems to me that if Cameron was serious about a referendum, he has had five years to give us one, and a promise of jam tomorrow from a man who made the same promise five years ago is not seriously to be believed or trusted.

Mark says UKIP cannot deliver and the Liberal Democrats and Labour won't deliver.

Neither I fear will the Tories keep yet another promise, which probably has critical small print hidden within.

Museum is 'limitless'

I WAS interested to read Alderman Bartlett's comments about a city centre museum. As readers will know this was in the original plans and was to have been built behind the library.

Recently various sites, including the city centre, have been considered by independent consultants and it was concluded that an expansion of the present Milton Keynes Museum offered the best solution. To put the cost of building a new museum into perspective, in 2011 Liverpool Museum cost £72million and the expansion of the Ashmolean in 2009 cost £61m.

These museums also receive huge annual budgets for running costs - they are free to the public but they cost all of us all as we pay through our taxes. Most of what Milton Keynes Museum receives from the council is for maintenance of the buildings. So how is our museum funded?

Almost entirely by those that pay to visit but also by the work of the 200 or so volunteers. This has just been calculated, using agreed guidelines, as almost a quarter of a million ponds per annum.

What has disappointed our volunteers is the comment that 'the museum at Wolverton has limited capacity and limited potential'. I hope that many other residents of Milton Keynes would agree with our belief that the museum's capacity and potential are limitless.

If Cllr Bartlett would like to visit us I am certain the plans we can now share with him will convince him too. In the meantime, we will go on providing a museum of ever increasing quality - and vision!

Lights, camera, action

WHILST the new traffic lights make this roundabout (A5 at Fenny Stratford) much better in respect to traffic flow - sadly there is more chance of an accident than ever before.

Despite the huge signs dictating which lanes people are meant to be in I am constantly cut up by drivers who have made their own mind up which lanes to choose.

I understand in the first couple of days it took getting used to but there is no excuse now.

Shame the traffic lights haven't got cameras on them so that the police or highways agency could advise drivers the error of their ways.

Potential khat-astrophe

I WONDER why MK MP Mark Lancaster thinks that a law banning khat will be for the public good and 'welcomed by the community'.

All of the historical evidence on alcohol and illegal drugs suggests quite the contrary, something being considered very seriously now by a number of enlightened chief constables. Yet another route for young people to acquire a criminal identity and a ruined life will be established as the drug is driven underground. It is ironic that something else is being made illegal and thereby demanding police resources at the same time that Mr Lancaster's government is reducing the number of officers.

It's Question Time

WELL done to Chrysalis Theatre for hosting the inaugural MK Question Time last Friday evening. I thought the occasion was a great success and I look forward to it becoming an annual event.

I was particularly interested to learn that the speakers from UKIP, the Lib-Dems and the Green Party were so deeply socialist, and virtually indistinguishable from each other on their 'tax and spend' approach to almost every question.

All three enthusiastically proposed more (tax-payers'!) money being spent on pensions, benefits, social housing, loss-making public transport, schools, and university education. And none of them bothered to mention how much our taxes would need to go up, to pay for this raft of extra spending.

Jon Brett's City Life

His column written exclusively for MK NEWS

AS I sit and write this, I've just returned from the gym. No. I can't believe it either.

Over the years I've flirted with fitness a few times, occasionally joining gyms, bike rides, even playing squash. But it has always been the briefest of affairs, usually lasting no longer than the tie-in period, before returning to life as a sloth.

This latest dalliance has been prompted by a number of factors: sky rocketing cholesterol, the growth of another new chin (where did that come from?), a fitness requirement for work, but most annoyingly of all, an inexplicably motivated wife who is forever prodding my increasing middle-aged spread!

And so it begins (again).

The treadmill – as if life isn't already enough of one. The cross trainer - I was furious, let me tell you. The stepping machine which simulates climbing endless flights of stairs. The only motivation with these is hoping you get to the bloody top so you can throw yourself off! The rowing machine, and then the most boring of all, the exercise bike.

Yes there's televisions everywhere and pumping, motivating music, but only two kinds of punters: the already super fit, super toned. . . and then the rest of us. I felt uncomfortable and self-conscious while I was there, and aching and tired now I'm home.

And I'm paying for this!

But I've signed up for six months, so by the time we have our summer break in Eastbourne, we'll be the fittest, healthiest couple on the beach.

Right. I'm off for a burger.

Washed up: Francis Brennan's body was discovered on a beach in Spain. He had fled the country to avoid sentencing for a stabbing at the National Bowl in MK

'Bowl stabber' is found dead

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN who faced a probable jail sentence for a stabbing at the National Bowl has been found dead on a Spanish beach.

Francis Brennan, 25, from Anfield, Liverpool, had pleaded guilty to wounding, affray and possession of an offensive weapon (a knife) at a Swedish House Mafia gig at the Bowl in September 2012.

Brennan had last been seen in Alicante on January 24 when he was stopped in a friend's car by several men posing as police officers.

Francis's parents, Janet and Carl Brennan, and his girlfriend of 18 months, Sophie Staunton, had appealed to the public in February for any information of his whereabouts.

Plea: Francis Brennan

But his tortured body was found on Saturday, March 29 washed up in a bin bag and tied in duct tape, with reported injuries of severe head wounds.

Brennan had been on the run from UK cops after absconding before a sentencing date in October last year for the incident at the Bowl.

Three people were left injured in the stabbings at the gig.

A Merseyside Police statement, released on Friday, said: "We can confirm that a body found on a beach in the La Zenia area of Alicante was formally identified by the Spanish authorities as Francis Brennan.

"Francis's parents have been informed of his death and a family liaison officer from Merseyside Police is providing them with support and advice at this difficult time.

"A live police investigation carried out by the authorities in Spain remains ongoing."

Cracking Easter egg effort

Easter egg collection: Waitrose staff, Andrew Pakes and Rebecca Savage from MK Foodbank

LABOUR'S Andrew Pakes has helped give an eggcellent surprise to Milton Keynes Food Bank.

With help from Waitrose in Oakgrove, Mr Pakes who is Labour's Parliamentary Candidate for Milton Keynes South, organised a chocolate egg donation. The supermarket provided more than 100 eggs to ensure every child gets a treat this Easter.

Mr Pakes said: "I am delighted Waitrose has helped kick-start the appeal to make sure children whose parents are relying on the food bank also get a treat this Easter. Residents can help too by dropping off an Easter egg at their nearest collection point."

MK Food Bank manager John Marshall said: "Thanks to Andrew and Waitrose, 100 children's parcels will contain an egg this Easter but any more donations are welcome."

Court revokes bailiff's licence

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A BAILIFF will have to apply for his licence again in six months after a court was told a 12-year-old girl was left in tears by a notice he left for her mother.

Marston bailiff Mark Scott had his licence revoked by Oxford County Court after a hearing at the end of March, following a complaint lodged by the girl's father.

The incident happened when Mr Scott was trying to collect an unpaid TV licence debt of £78 dating back to 2002 from Teri Burnikell in Coffee Hall on August 22, 2013.

Solicitor Molly Carson, representing the Burnikells, told the court that when he knocked on the door, 12-year-old Chelsea, daughter of Teri, came to an upstairs window.

Mr Scott demanded Chelsea come downstairs, and gave her a note to pass onto her mother, on which he had written that if the debt was not paid by the end of that day, he would return with police 'tonight' and her mother would be arrested.

He wrote on the note: "Police will enter your property to arrest you and detain you in custody. Final warning, I will return with police tonight."

Mr Scott claimed the girl answered the door when he knocked on it, and that there was no incident involving an upstairs window. Another note was left on September 4 when Mr Scott attended the property with two police officers.

The court heard the first letter was not sealed in a proper envelope, as it should have been, and that the alterations to the notice and the repeated use of the word "Police" had been made with an intention to cause alarm.

The fact this letter was handed to a 12-year-old girl was an aggravating feature, a judge ruled. The judge also said that his certificate would likely have been revoked even if this note had been handed to an adult.

The Burnikells told the court they did not want Mr Scott's licence to be revoked, but it was anyway. Court costs of £500 were also awarded to the complainant, which Ms Carson said her client may be appealing.

Russell Burnikell, Chelsea's father, said: "I'm annoyed and upset that someone can go up to a 12-year-old girl and think they can do this."

Ms Carson said: "Most striking in this case is how difficult it is to take a complaint against a bailiff and how weighted it is in favour of the bailiff."

The debt was paid around September 26.

Harbottle & Lewis LLP, on behalf of Marston, told MK NEWS that this was an isolated incident, and that Marston 'has a very good track record in its industry.' They said Mr Scott had no intention to upset anyone, and had been advised that there are grounds for him to appeal. MK NEWS also spoke to Mr Scott, who declined to comment and referred us to Marston.

Centre revamp still on cards

THERE could be good news in the pipeline for a centre left undeveloped by a supermarket chain.

Sainsbury's had announced plans to replace the rundown shops at Stantonbury's Local Centre with a supermarket, stores and cafes but in June last year said the proposals were 'no longer possible'. Now Janet Heald, property communications for Sainsbury's, has announced: "We are in discussions with another commercial company.

"We clearly don't want to walk away and we have been cleaning up the area."

Windmill work nearly over

WORK on restoring the historic Bradwell Windmill to its former glory is due to be completed this summer.

Milton Keynes Council has spent more than £160,000 in renovating the sails and restoring one of the city's most historic Grade II listed buildings.

The site will now be run by Milton Keynes Museum on behalf of the council, and museum director Bill Griffiths said: "The mill is something we should all be proud of."

Waking up to a new pre-school

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A PRE-SCHOOL that was at risk of closure is to open its new premises at the end of this month.

MK NEWS reported in January of how parents were worried that Coffee Tots, which caters for more than 40 families with children aged between two and four years old, may have to shut.

The problem arose as the Bridge Academy in Jonathan's, in which the school was based, needed its room back.

But Coffee Tots has been able to move just up the road to the Coffee Hallk Out of School project building in the same street after a lease was agreed with Milton Keynes Council.

Coffee Tots is expected to open at the end of this month, after the school holidays have finished for Easter.

"I'm over the moon and what we've been able to do here is beyond my wildest dreams," said Steve Coventry, chairman of the committee which runs the pre-school. Mr Coventry said that Jephson Housing Association Group had been an enormous help and had donated around £25,000 worth of equipment.

New beginnings: Steve Coventry at Coffee Tots new pre-school

That money, along with £10,000 the charity has been able to save up, has resulted in Coffee Tots being able to refurbish the facility, which includes a soft play area, disabled toilets, new windows and even a sensory room where the children can have some quiet time.

Workers at Jephson's have also been able to spell out the name 'Coffee Tots' in the tiles.

Mr Coventry added: "This project has been community action in process and it has been about the people of Coffee Hall working together for the benefit of others."

Crossing signals a problem

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A NETWORK Rail project leader has admitted he does not know how to solve the riddle of closing the Woburn Sands level crossing.

As previously reported by MK NEWS in October, up to 10 trains an hour could use the line going through Woburn Sands and Bow Brickhill, which could see level crossings down for a lot longer than they currently are.

Network Rail set up a railway crossing task force to find solutions for level crossings, and while something can be worked out in Bow Brickhill, Woburn Sands is a problem.

Charles Hurst, Network Rail project manager, said: "It is very difficult to tell what is going to happen and there is no obvious solution.

"When we get a solution we will consult with everybody."

He added that ideas have included building a bridge, while one scheme put forward by residents involved a bridge and a new road.

The plan for Bow Brickhill is to build a bridge and close the level crossing, but residents do not want this until the situation in Woburn Sands is resolved because of villagers' fears over traffic.

Last week a team from Network Rail's East West rail link programme visited Fulbrook Middle School, Woburn Sands, to teach students about the dangers of level crossings.

Dons pay tribute to murdered fan

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

MK DONS have sent their condolences after a fan from Colchester was murdered.

James Attfield, 38, was stabbed 102 times in his arms, hands, back, neck and head in the early hours of March 29 in Colchester's Castle Park.

On Monday, Essex Police asked members of the public to help track down three potential witnesses as officers search the River Colne to try to find the murder weapon.

James's mother Julie Finch has also urged people to come forward.

"He loved football and was a supporter of MK Dons," she said.

"James was in the process of rebuilding his life after a road traffic accident four years ago in which he suffered a severe brain injury.

"Jim was very aware of his disabilities and avoided crowded places and situations where he could get injured again.

A statement from MK Dons said: "The club were sad to learn of the tragic passing of MK Dons fan James Attfield. Our thoughts and condolences are very much with his family at this difficult time."

A man arrested by the team investigating the murder was released without charge.

Controversial youth hostel to stay open

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A YOUTH hostel that caused 'misery' for residents due to anti-social behaviour will remain open.

Councillors have agreed to allow the continued use of the property in St George's Road, Bletchley, to house people aged 16-21 up until July 2015.

A previous application had been rejected by the development control committee in October but this time they allowed it to pass on condition that a management plan for the hostel is presented to the council, and staffing levels were increased overnight by operators St Mungo's.

This newspaper first revealed how drinking and vandalism had made life a nightmare for nearby residents.

Nicky Rayner, MK Council's assistant director of children's social care, told the meeting on Thursday that the council had to take its responsibility as a 'corporate parent' seriously, arguing if the hostel could not be home to young people then they would have to be put into bed and breakfast.

A report into anti-social behaviour in the area found that from February 2013 to January 2014 there were just eight recorded police incidents in the area of St George's Road.

But Tony Mabbott, a parish councillor in Bletchley, said: "Residents have been fed up with this for such a long time. People have no confidence that if they report anti-social behaviour anything will be done. The reports might say there have been hardly any reported but we are getting real complaints every day."

Brian Greengrass, a resident who lives opposite the hostel, said the decision was 'a disgrace'.

But Helen Denyer, St Mungo's Broadway area manager, said: "We will continue to take action if problems arise and be the best neighbours we can."

TOWIE's 'Arg' to pay a visit

ONE of the stars of ITV2's 'The Only Way Is Essex' will be visiting WHSmith in thecentre:mk on Friday to sign copies of his new book.

Fans can meet James 'Arg' Argent as he promotes 'Living It Arg' which lifts the lid on his life.

'Take legal action' over balancing lake

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

Worry: Cllr Reg Edwards believes the council should take legal action against Anglian Water over Hunter Drive balancing lake

A COUNCILLOR is calling for legal action to be taken against Anglian Water if a balancing lake in the city isn't improved.

Cllr Reg Edwards believes the system in Hunter Drive in Water Eaton is proving 'a risk to properties' and that the overgrown site could soon fail to prevent flooding.

But Anglian Water is disputing the claims, telling MK NEWS that it has 'no reason to believe' the facility isn't working as it should be.

Cllr Edwards is raising the issue at a meeting of Milton Keynes Council's Cabinet next Wednesday.

In his member's item, he says: "I urge the Cabinet to take all necessary action, including taking legal action, against Anglia Water Services, who have the responsibility of the balancing lake, to bring it back to its original condition when first built to prevent flooding."

The drainage system was built in June 1971 as a response to severe flooding in 1968. The area flooded once again in 1998.

Cllr Edwards told MK NEWS that the site was 'overgrown with vegetation' and 'no longer serves its purpose', and that insurance premiums for nearby residents had gone 'sky high'.

A spokesperson for Anglian Water responded: "We've no reason to believe the Water Eaton balancing facility isn't working exactly as it should.

"We're not aware of any issues or flooding in this area, despite the extreme rainfall we've seen over the last two winters. We will visit the site again to check that the inlet and outlet channels are clear.

"These were inspected earlier this year and found to be working correctly."

Tribute: Performer Chris George 'plays his respects' at the MK Rose pillar in memory of Jim Marshall

Playing respect to Jim Marshall

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

AMP legend Jim Marshall was remembered in a ceremony at the new MK Rose monument in Campbell Park on Saturday morning.

The Father of Loud Day, which took place at the pillar in his memory, celebrated the life of one of the city's favourite sons on the second anniversary of his passing. And four unknown guitar supremos were chosen in an online competition to plug their six-string instrument into the pillar and 'play their respects'.

There were also a number of guest speakers connected to Jim, including his son Terry and chauffeur Steve Wood, as well as Mayor Brian White.

Marshall, hailed by rock stars such as Slash for his influence, died in Milton Keynes two years ago.

The Marshall factory is based in Bletchley.

A spokesman for Marshall Amps said: "It was a fitting tribute to Jim and a true reflection of how he had such an impact on different people's lives.

"As well as our participants having a great time, the weather was kind to us too!"

WHY YOUR ISA IS NOW NICER

In his recent Budget the Chancellor George Osborne announced a number of improvements to ISAs. These changes will come into effect on 1st July 2014 and are summarised as follows;

From 1st July 2014 ISAs will be reformed into a simpler product, the 'New ISA' (NISA), and all existing ISAs will become NISAs. From that date the overall annual subscription limit for these accounts will be increased to £15,000 for 2014/15. For the first time, ISA savers will be able to subscribe this full amount to a cash NISA (currently only 50% of the overall ISA limit can be saved in cash). Investors are able to open one Cash NISA and one Stocks and Shares NISA each tax-year. However, once open, the Cash or Stocks and Shares NISA can be transferred between providers unlimited times.

Under the NISA, investors will also have new rights to transfer their investments from a stocks and shares to a cash account (currently only the opposite is possible). There will be consequential changes to the rules on the investments that can be held in a NISA, so that a wider range of securities (including certain retail bonds with less than five years before maturity) can be invested. In addition, Core Capital Deferred Shares issued by building societies will become eligible to be held in a NISA, Junior ISA or CTF.

Between 6th April and 1st July 2014, the total amount that can be paid into a Cash ISA is £5,940 and the combined amount paid into Cash and Stocks and Shares ISAs must not exceed £11,880. From 1st July 2014, existing ISAs will automatically become NISAs, with a higher limit and more flexibility. Thereafter an investor can add further money to either their Cash or Stocks and Shares NISA, up to the new £15,000 limit. From 1st July 2014, any money held in a Stocks and Shares NISA can be transferred to a Cash NISA.

Different transfer rules will apply depending when funds were paid into the Stocks and Shares account. If money is invested between April and July 2014, this sum must be transferred as a whole. Other amounts from previous years may be transferred as a whole or in parts, if the provider permits.

School break fines apply to police too

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THAMES Valley Police Federation (TVPF) won't ask schools to give officers exemptions from fines for taking their children on holiday during term.

Some UK police federations have said they want head-teachers to allow it for police officers' children.

Parents can be fined between £60-£2,500 for taking youngsters out of classes without permission. If they refuse to pay they could face three months in prison.

Graham Smith, chairman of TVPF, said: "TVPF know that officers often do not have the ability to take their children away during school holidays due to operational reasons which are often exceptional circumstances.

"We have not asked schools to waive the right to impose fines if they deem it appropriate.

"We have asked the chief constable not to impose a misconduct sanction against a police officer in receipt of a fine imposed under this legislation. The force have agreed that individual cases will be dealt with on the merits of the case."

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council, which impose the fines, said: "MK Council has not been approached by the police with a formal request to allow their officers' children to take holiday in term time.

"The council supports headteachers to maintain positive attendance in line with government policy."

Musical duo launch label to 'save talent'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MUSICIAN and producer wants to 'save local musical talent' by setting up an independent record label and building a studio.

Matt Jones, 28, from Newport Pagnell, has joined forces with 25-year-old namesake Matt Johnson to set up On-Mic records.

But the duo need to raise £16,000 to open a state-of-the-art recording studio for one year so that they can record MK-based artists who can put the city on the music map.

Acts such as Jamie Stimpson and Mister Vee are slowly raising the profile of artists from the city but Matt Jones feels that too many talented musicians feel they have to leave to make it in the industry, likening MK to a 'culture vacuum'.

He told MK NEWS: "It's very difficult for recording artists in Milton Keynes, and it feels like you have to go elsewhere if you want to get recognised by people in the industry.

Plans: Matt Jones is part of a duo who want to raise £16,000 to develop a studio, and place Milton Keynes on the 'musical map'

"You don't get many big labels coming to this city to scout for talent, and I think that is partly because we don't really have a big venue that is specifically for just music."

Both Matts have dipped into their own pockets to set up the label, but need the 'generosity' of local businesses and residents to build the studio, which would mean they could record and promote artists from MK for a year.

And Matt Jones, who has worked as a DJ at a number of the city's bars and clubs, added: "We want to record local talent and put Milton Keynes on the musical map.

"We are currently looking at spaces and we hope to sign a lease within the next week."

To find out more about the label and their studio plans, visit www.onmicrecords.com.

Problem: BBRUA chairman Richard Crane (inset) isn't happy with Bletchley station's platform six

Get platform on the right track'

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

CONTINUED use of a train station platform is 'an accident waiting to happen' according to the chairman of a rail users' group.

Currently, Marston Vale Line services run into platform six at Bletchley train station. But Richard Crane, chairman of the Bedford to Bletchley Rail Users' Association, which has more than 400 members, says the platform is ill-equipped to deal with passengers, particularly those with disabilities.

He said in the group's AGM last Thursday night that the lack of a lift and the fact that commuters have to go up 16 stone steps to get off the platform represents a danger to passengers.

"I feel great frustration over this and it's an accident waiting to happen," said Mr Crane.

London Midland commercial director Richard Brooks told the meeting it was not viable for the service to be moved to platform five, nor was it possible to extend the Marston Vale line to Milton Keynes Central station.

"I can't see anything happing about platform five during the London Midland franchise and we haven't found a way to run trains to Milton Keynes."

Carnival mood: Young Carers MK will benefit from the 'At the Movies' themed carnival in West Bletchley, and celebrate with a bag of popcorn at the Inter-Action MK base in Peartree Bridge

And the winner is...

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

YOUNG carers are feeling lucky - as their organisation will be boosted by cash raised from an 'At the Movies' themed carnival.

Young Carers MK lends support to carers aged from eight to 19, giving them a break from their responsibilities so they can enjoy being a child.

The group will benefit from proceeds raised from the West Bletchley Carnival which is being held on June 7.

Kids celebrated the good news with a bag of popcorn down at the charity's base in the Inter-Action MK building in Peartree Bridge.

Last year the carnival raised more than £9,000 for charity, and Caroline Roxburgh - the group's programme organised - would love a similar amount this time.

"We're absolutely thrilled to have been selected and the money raised will go a long way towards helping us.

"We don't receive any funding so we rely on donations."

Gennaro Corrado, culture and events officer for West Bletchley Council, is now keen for as many people to take part in the film-themed parade as possible.

He said: "Taking part in the parade is absolutely free and without doubt raises the profile of your organisation.

"Parade entries can take part in a variety of ways, from walking, marching or driving a vehicle, the main thing is taking part."

Details for the carnival - for which MK NEWS are media partners - can be found on www.mkweb.co.uk.

New team help save youth club

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

BOW Brickhill Youth Club has been saved from closure after a new committee stepped forward to take over the running of it.

MK NEWS reported in January how the group may have been forced to close due the existing management committee retiring and wanting younger people to take over the mantle.

A new committee has now come forward and chairman, Shazad Siddiqui, is looking forward to sinking his teeth into the challenge.

"I felt the need to step up because nobody else was," Mr Siddiqui said.

"I didn't want the chance of up to 40 children not having anything to do and this youth club is good for the community."

Mr Siddiqui will be joined by Becca Abery, who will be secretary, and Matt Braddish, who will take on the treasurer role.

The trio replace chairwoman Beverley Thompson, secretary Nick Wagstaff and treasurer Stuart Leeming.

Beverley said: "I'm certainly relieved that a new committee has come forward to take over the running of the club.

"It is something which is going to keep going so that's really good news."

Mr Siddiqui is planning to buy a new pool table for the group.

He also hopes to take the children to the Caldecotte Xperience, as well as purchase other new equipment for the youngsters to enjoy.

"I'm really looking forward to it," Mr Siddiqui added.

"I'd also like to try to get parents more involved. I think this youth club is great."

Anybody wishing to join the youth club should pay a visit to the group's website, www.bbyc.org.uk.

Cheers: Children celebrate the new committee at the youth club

Positive steps: Despite being given just over three years to live, Elaine is organising World Walk

Walking for cancer

BY JAMES AVERILL

james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MUM who has been told she has only years left to live is hoping to raise £20,000 for cancer charities by organising a series of sponsored walks around the world.

Elaine Hammond, 50, has set up the World Walk initiative, which will take place in May and raise money for Willen Hospice, Macmillan and Cancer Research UK.

There will be an event in Milton Keynes as well as scores of other places including Hadrian's Wall, Ireland and Australia.

The IT project manager for Barclays was diagnosed with secondary breast cancer in November 2012, having put off seeing her doctor for several months.

She said: "My doctor told me the average life span is three-and-a-half years. But I am two-and-a-half years in and feel brilliant. I know people who have gone on 20 years."

Last year mum-of-two Elaine, from Furzton, also lost eight friends to cancer in as many weeks.

This, combined with a desire to give something back to the charities which have helped her fight the disease, spurred Elaine to set up World Walk.

The event in MK, at the Peace Pagoda, takes place on Saturday, May 10 at 9.30am. There is a choice of five, ten and 15 mile walks.

"It doesn't matter how long the walk is," she said.

"It can be miles and miles or - if you are ill or disabled - it could just be a walk around the garden if that is a challenge to you."

‘Lost’ lady tried to grab bangles

Praise from MP

THE shadow minister for universities praised the Open University’s ‘revolution’ in education during a visit to its campus in the city on Thursday.

Liam Byrne MP said the OU’s ‘flexible approach to learning must be part of Britain’s future’.

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A WOMAN screamed out for help as the driver of a car attempted to rob her of jewellery outside a Sikh Temple.

Between noon and 12.15pm on Thursday, April 3 the victim was walking along Phoenix Drive, Leadenhall.

She was called to by a woman driving a car who asked for directions to the hospital.

As the victim gave directions, the female driver said that she liked the woman’s gold bangles before taking hold of her wrist and attempting to pull them off.

The victim refused to let her take them and screamed for help.

The driver eventually let go and drove off in the direction of the V6.

It left the victim with bruising on her wrist. The offender has been described as a white woman of large build, aged in her fifties and with straight shoulder length hair.

The front seat passenger was a white woman aged in her forties of an average build, with brown shoulder length hair.

The back seat passenger was also a white woman of a large build and aged in her seventies.

All of the women were wearing gold necklaces and the car they were in was a dark blue hatchback - possibly a new Vauxhall Astra.

Anyone with information, or who may have seen this vehicle, should contact PC Kathryn Combstock, via the Thames Valley Police Enquiry Centre, on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Harry's snap: A group writing a booklet on Great Linford's war heroes want more pictures taken by Harry Bartholomew, like this one he took of war survivors at the village school

Old photo may be key to war booklet

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A GROUP writing a booklet on the soldiers remembered on a war memorial are looking for more information about a historic photograph.

Members of St Andrew's Church in Great Linford, as well as other residents, need more details on a picture taken shortly after the First World War ended.

In February, MK NEWS wrote an article appealing for help researching the lives of the 11 men on the church's war memorial. And just days after our article was published David Kent, one of the group overseeing the booklet, received a picture taken by a wartime photographer of whom they are keen to find more images from.

David told MK NEWS: "The photograph shows some of the Great Linford men who survived the war and shows them at a social gathering at the village school, sometime between late 1918 to the early part of 1919.

"If any MK NEWS readers can identify any of the men we would be very grateful. The photograph was taken by a local photographer, Harry Bartholomew, who lived in Great Linford High Street during the period of the First World War. As this gentleman took this we hope your readers might have more photographs taken by him of the Great Linford area."

The booklet is set to be released in time for August 4 - the 100th anniversary of Great Britain declaring war.

If you know any more about Harry Bartholomew, contact David Kent on 01908 316677.

Public Exhibition - Proposed New Car Park for Central Milton Keynes
10.00am - 5.00pm on Saturday 12th April at centre:mk

Public exhibition:

Find out more about our exciting new plans

Research has indicated that Milton Keynes City Centre is struggling to provide the convenient car parking customers require. Shoppers often experience delays finding a car parking space at centre:mk and, without a 'destination car park', find navigating the existing car parks in Milton Keynes confusing and difficult. Indeed, compared to other comparable shopping centres, centre:mk is underserved by thousands of car parking spaces.

We're proposing to sensitively redevelop the existing surface car park to the east of centre:mk into a new, state-of-the-art multi-deck car park. Our multi-million pound investment will deliver over 1,400 new Central Milton Keynes' parking spaces with payment on exit – increasing convenience, ensuring longer stays, cutting delays and supporting a successful City Centre.

We're interested in your views on our proposals before we submit a planning application to Milton Keynes Council.

Please come to our public exhibition to find out more on:

Saturday 12 April
Between 10.00am and 5pm
At Field Walk (North 13)
Adjacent to John Lewis and Next in Middleton Hall.

Site of the proposed car park to the east of the centre:mk

Our initial plans will be on display at the exhibition and feedback can be left on the day or by emailing, writing or telephoning us on:

Business one of best for women

Thrilled: Fay Sharpe is delighted to be listed

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

AN events agency has been named as one of the top 50 employers in the UK for women.

Zibrant, which has offices in Breckland, Linford Wood, has been ranked alongside companies such as Microsoft and Lloyds Banking Group in a list compiled by the national newspaper The Times.

The firm specialises in corporate meetings, event production and venue- finding.

To make the Top 50, Zibrant was required to demonstrate that gender equality is an integral part of its business strategy and that there was consistent commitment to progressing women in the workplace covering the whole organisation.

As part of a judging process by campaign group Opportunity Now, Zibrant also submitted information about both its internal promotion of gender equality, diversity and inclusion.

And it isn't the first time the group has been recognised by The Times, as it was included in the list for the first time in 2012.

Fay Sharpe, managing director of Zibrant, said: "We're absolutely thrilled that we've been recognised as one of The Times' 50 top employers for women this year.

"This is particularly as compared to much of the rest of the Top 50, Zibrant is a relatively small organisation of just over 200 employees.

"We've found it essential to recognise that male and female employees often require support in different areas, and try to provide a flexible environment to reflect this.

"This has meant that talented individuals – regardless of their gender – have been able to progress within the company."

Award for midwife who always delivers

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MIDWIFE has won the praise of patients after scooping a national healthcare hero award.

Tracy Rea, a specialist bereavement midwife at Milton Keynes Hospital, was nominated for the Tommy's Award by mother Kayleigh Moore.

The honours celebrate individuals who make a difference to the lives of families all over the UK.

Tracy was nominated by Kayleigh for setting up a support group for parents who have lost a baby.

Kayleigh, 22, met Tracy, 46, after being told doctors could not find her baby's heartbeat.

Despite being on annual leave Tracy contacted Kayleigh that evening to arrange to meet her. She continued to help Kayleigh when she fell pregnant again six months later.

Kayleigh said: "She does more than going the extra mile. I nominated her to say thank you for everything she does."

Tracy was presented with her award by Jane Norman of Tommy's at the Landmark Hotel in London on March 21.

The modest midwife told MK NEWS: "I just see it as part of my job.

"I'm so proud to have won but it's not just about me, it's about all of us at the hospital."

Other patients helped by Tracy, who has worked at the hospital since 2002, posted on Facebook to call her 'an amazing woman', 'incredible lady' and 'guardian angel'.

Garlic and Herb Butter Roast Lamb with Cider Gravy

Serves 4-6

Preparation time: 10 minutes
Cooking time: Medium: 25 minutes per 450g/1lb plus 25 minutes / Well done: 30 minutes per 450g/1lb plus 30 minutes

Ingredients

1 x 1.3kg/3lb lean whole or carvery lamb leg joint
Salt and freshly milled black pepper
For the Herb Butter
2 garlic cloves, peeled and finely chopped or crushed or 5-10ml/1-2tsp garlic purée
100g/4oz unsalted butter, softened
30ml/2tbsp freshly chopped flat-leaf parsley
30ml/2tbsp freshly chopped chives
15ml/1tbsp freshly chopped tarragon
For the Gravy
15ml/1tbsp plain flour
450ml/¾pint good, hot lamb stock
150ml/¼pint sweet cider

Method

❶ Preheat the oven to Gas mark 4-5, 180-190°C, 350-375°F.

❷ To prepare the garlic and herb butter; in a small bowl mix all the ingredients together. Place the joint on a chopping board, score the skin, season and spread generously all over. Wrap any remaining butter in cling film or foil and freeze for up to 2 months.

❸ Place the joint on a rack in a roasting tin and open roast for the preferred, calculated cooking time, basting occasionally with any rich meat juices. Cover with foil if browning too quickly.

❹ Remove from the oven; cover and leave to rest on a large plate for 15-20 minutes. Meanwhile, make the gravy; spoon off any excess fat from the roasting tin and discard. Place the roasting tin over a medium heat and sprinkle over the flour. Stir well with a small whisk or spoon, add a little stock and stir again, scraping the base of the pan to release any rich sediment.

❺ Add the remaining stock, cider and any meat juices from the plate. Adjust the seasoning if required and simmer for 8-10 minutes, stirring occasionally until reduced to a well-flavoured gravy. Strain before serving.

❻ Serve the lamb with seasonal vegetables and the gravy.

Tip: Use any remaining herb butter as a topping on pan-fried or grilled lamb steaks or chops or melted over steamed vegetables.

Flour paste

75g plain flour
1 tbsp caster sugar
80ml water

Instructions

❶ Combine the yeast, sugar and milk in a bowl and whisk until yeast is dissolved. Cover the bowl and stand in a warm place for 10 minutes or until the mixture is frothy.

❷ Sift the flour and cinnamon into a large bowl and rub in the butter. Stir in the yeast mixture, egg, water and fruit until well combined. Cover and stand the bowl in a warm place for 1 hour or until the mixture has doubled in size.

❸ Turn the dough out onto a floured surface and knead for 5 minutes until smooth and elastic. Divide into 16 and knead into balls.

❹ Place the dough balls on 2 greased baking trays. Stand in a warm place for about 20 minutes until the dough has risen.

❺ Preheat the oven to 190°C/375°F.

❻ To make the paste, combine the flour and sugar in a bowl, blend in the water and stir until smooth. Pipe crosses onto the buns using a piping bag with a small plain nozzle.

❼ Bake for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 180°C/350° and bake for a further 15 minutes.

❽ Turn the buns onto a wire rack and, while still warm, brush with the jam.

Noah review - Hollywood blockbuster of biblical proportions

BIBLICAL adaptation Noah tells the story of how one man saved his family and the animal kingdom from a catastrophic global flood designed to wipe out the evils of mankind.

Aronofsky's surprisingly good retelling becomes his own interpretation of a barren world that has been poisoned by the descendents of Cain. Russell Crowe has Noah's brooding demeanour down to a tee and injects a healthy dose of angst and inner struggle.

But it's Jennifer Connelly who steals the show as Noah's wife Naameh. She's the hidden pivotal role in the story and Connelly is superb at displays of raw emotion and turmoil.

Emma Watson as Ila provides Noah with a moral compass in a role that is a million miles removed from Harry Potter, as she cries hysterically on cue.

And keep an eye out for The Watchers - fallen angels imprisoned in stone whose big screen debut is well worth the wait.

Aronofsky makes choices that result in vague details but the script is crammed with biblical references and it's clear that a lot of care has gone into getting it right.

Noah is an insightful and challenging telling of a famous tale that successfully reaches its audience on a modern level.

middletonsgrill

THE new Middletons Steakhouse and Grill has only been open for a few weeks at The Hub - but word has been spreading about it.

A group of us went down to see what all the fuss was about.

The first thing to say is that it was very busy - and we took that to be a good sign, especially as it didn't affect the prompt service in any way.

There's plenty of variety to look at on the menu- though a slight criticism would be that the layout is slightly confusing.

For starters I had the piri piri king prawns. While it was undoubtedly a messy dish the taste was fabulous - finger licking good in fact.

Then the very filling main course arrived. To get the best possible range of products I plumped for the Middleton Grill - a 6oz sirloin steak, piri piri chicken breast on the bone, sticky bbq ribs garnished with chilli and spring onion, plus onion rings and chips.

The steak - cooked medium - was one of the best I have had and was so tender that it cut like velvet. The chips were OK, but the onion rings were soggy and had no flavour.

The standout though was the piri-piri chicken which was simply sensational, far better than any alternative I have tried.

One member of the group said their salmon steak was delicious but found the number of bones slightly off putting. There was, however really high praise for the desserts.

The Eton mess, honeycomb cheesecake and sundae all won rave reviews, though I was told the creme brulee could have been better.

The overall feeling though was that the food was, in the most part, a stunning success - with the odd letdown, mainly on the side dishes.

But the atmosphere was good, the pricing was reasonable, the service was impeccable and, for early days, I would thoroughly recommend trying it for yourself.

thomasrocks

THOMAS Nicholas is carving out a career as a rock star in his own right.

Most famously known for playing Kevin in the American Pie film series, he has released three albums and now comes to the Craufurd Arms in Wolverton to show off his material - which has been likened to Foo Fighters.

Tickets for the 7.30pm gig on Monday cost £5 from www.thecraufurdarms.com.

mysteryman

DERREN Brown is coming to Milton Keynes Theatre from Monday, April 14 to Saturday, April 19, writes Judy Riley.

Just like his mind-bending illusions, Derren Brown is 'a riddle, wrapped in a mystery, inside an enigma'.

He told MKlife about how he saw a hypnotist, which brought about his love for the stage.

"I saw a hypnotist perform when I was at university and it was a very good show. I just thought, I had to do that," he said.

But his powers did leave him in a spot of bother when he was younger as he shoplifted.

"It was nothing major. At that time there were loads of boys' gadgets in the shops and I couldn't afford them.

"I was getting quite good at it and I loved the idea of the sleight of hand involved.

"Then, when I was about 17, I looked round my bedroom one day and realised that everything in it, except my bed, was nicked." Lots of people may wonder why he doesn't buy the winning lottery ticket or bet on the winner of the 2.30 at Ascot.

"If I really could predict the winning lottery numbers I wouldn't be selling tickets for this show!

"I can't predict the winning numbers, I can only offer good practical advice.

"Most people base their choice on dates such as birthdays, so they tend to be numbers under 31.

"So pick a random sequence of higher numbers.

"You won't have more chance of choosing the right numbers but you'll have more chance of winning a lot of money because fewer people will have chosen the same lines!"

Tickets cost between £39.90 and £48.90, and can be booked by going to http://www.atgtickets.com/

THE award winning Myra Tiffin Performing Arts School returns to Stantonbury Campus with its annual show, 'Let us go forward together'.

After another busy and successful year training the local talent of the future, the school presents a collection of dancing, singing and acting with a high level of enthusiasm and professionalism at Stantonbury College from tomorrow until April 12.

Be sure not to miss these gifted young performers, some of whom can be seen in the West End, on TV, and winning international competitions.

Aged from three to 18, students from the school, based in Stony Stratford, come together to show off their hard work.

Tickets cost £13 for adults and £11 for concessions. For more information, and to book your tickets, go to www.stantonburytheatre.co.uk.

AS the warm weather begins to arrive, it seems a long time since the garden was saturated with all that rain! JAMES FROST from Frost's Garden Centre, gives his gardening tips for April

WITH spring in full flow and lots of plants shooting there is now a lot of work to do in the garden!

Spring flowering shrubs that are now coming to an end such as Forsythia, Ribes (Flowering Currant) and Chaenomeles will need their flowered growth cut back.

Winter stem plants such as Cornus (Dogwood) and Salix (willow) also need cutting back hard to encourage new stems.

It is also time to give Lavender and Santolina a trim over to encourage growth and stop the plants getting too woody.

Perennial plants can be lifted and divided early this month, with new shoots appearing.

All of the flower garden would benefit from a top dressing of general fertiliser and mulching to a depth of 5-8cm to help prevent annual weed growth and retain moisture in the ground.

Lawns can be cut on a high setting on dry days. It is also time to rake it and remove any dead winter growth. And if you have a damp lawn and suffer from moss – now is the time to treat it with a granular or liquid moss killer.

jimitribute

IT'S a tough job trying to imitate one of the greatest guitar players ever - but John Campbell pulls it off.

Are You Experienced? are the number one Jimi Hendrix tribute band, so get ready for note perfect tunes.

Tickets for Friday's 8pm gig at The Stables cost £19 on 01908 280800.

hungergames

I AM reading the third Hunger Games book Mockingjay at the moment, and I'm finding myself getting gripped to the series again, writes Scott Kirk.

They have a very simplistic reading style so they're spot on for children and young adults, but I think the plot is good enough for adults to appreciate as well.

Katniss Everdeen, who is played by Jennifer Lawrence in the films, is rebelling against the Capital in your typical post-apocalyptic, dictatorial style of book. Some of the inventive ideas by author Suzanne Collins are clear signs of a woman with a superb imagination.

I really liked the first two books but now that the actual Hunger Games are out of the way, I'm intrigued to see what direction Collins is going to take the narrative. It's certainly one you struggle to put down once you get started so I'd definitely recommend it.

What should you pay an Estate Agent to sell your property?

Why does Local Estate Agent only charge 0.5%?

Local Estate Agent is an independent, family run business launched 4 years ago in Cambridgeshire. Founder Donna Hewitt had worked for traditional high street estate agents for over 20 years and realised that many of the running costs and commissions (passed on to vendors) were unnecessary. The vast majority of people buying property now search online using websites such as Rightmove, so Donna created Local Estate Agent to provide all the services needed to sell property but at a fraction of the cost. The concept allows an agent to work from a home-office environment using the latest technology and techniques to provide a local, professional, dedicated and more personal service. Each agent has a limit on the number of properties being managed at any one time and allows customers to have contact with their dedicated agent from 9am till 10pm 7 days a week.

The result… Lower estate agent fees but no compromise on service!!!

The services offer by Local Estate Agent have been successfully tried and tested. Vendors in Milton Keynes can now take advantage of this bright and fresh approach to estate agency with confidence. Also, with options that include no upfront payments and nothing to pay until completion of sale… What have you got to lose?

DONS

Winger cannot understand the away-home form split

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

MK DONS winger Matty Kennedy has admitted that he does not know the reason for the side's contrasting home and away performances.

At stadiummk Dons have failed to score in five games, but they're flying on their travels with five straight away wins, and six victories out of seven on the road.

And 19-year-old Kennedy, who has joined on loan from Everton for the remainder of this season, cannot understand the discrepancy in form.

"I've just found out that stat because I've only played in one of the games," said the Scottish U21 international.

"I don't understand that because there are plenty of boys in the team who are capable of scoring goals so I don't know what the problem is.

"Hopefully I can come in and score a few goals and take my chances, so let's see what happens."

Kennedy says he has been made to feel at home since signing for Dons, and believes that with other young players around him such as Dele Alli, James Loveridge and Giorgio Rasulo, this has helped him.

"It was quite rushed at first but since I've got here all the boys have made me feel welcome," said the former Kilmarnock player.

"I moved into an apartment a couple of days ago and I've settled in quickly because the boys have taken me out for meals and things like that.

"Obviously it's good to have other young boys about because they're going through the same as you.

"James has come from Swansea so he's going through the same as me as well, so I get on well with him.

"It's good to have other young boys about."

He also said that his Everton manager Roberto Martinez believed a move to MK would benefit him greatly as Dons play in a similar style to Everton.

"As soon as my manager found out that MK Dons were interested he said to definitely come here because that's the way we play at Everton and that's the way I like to play as a winger," said Kennedy.

"He said I'll learn a lot playing in the first team instead of playing at U21 level.

"Karl Robinson has brought me in and said I'll fit straight in the team because that's the way we play."

Kennedy has been thrown straight in at the deep end since his introduction in the 1-0 defeat at home to Wolves last month.

Dons are in the middle of a late push for the final play-off spot, but that is not on Kennedy's mind, who just wants to get plenty of points on the board.

"I don't really think about the play-offs," he said.

"If we do our job then it's going to work out at the end of the day, so if we keep winning then hopefully that'll be good."

Ultimately for Kennedy, it's about trying to get into the Everton team, and he is delighted to see how well the side are doing, with their victory over Arsenal at the weekend seeing them close to within one point of a Champions League spot.

"It's going to be hard for me to get into that team but what they said to me is that my aim is to go away with the first team over pre-season," he said. "I need to come out here and do well first before I come back, that's what Martinez said to me.

"I watched them at the weekend and they're flying, so hopefully we can get in the Champions League.

"It'll be mad if I can go away on a pre-season tour with a team in the Champions League."

His current manager at Dons Robinson has been delighted with the winger's introduction to first team life, and he hopes the Evertonian will play a crucial role for the rest of the season.

"I've been over the moon with Matty Kennedy's introduction – what a player he is," said Robinson.

"The likes of him have bolstered us and are getting me excited."

BADMINTON

MK to compete in National Badminton League

MILTON Keynes will have a team in the new National Badminton League (NBL) which has been announced by city-based BADMINTON England.

As the first national league in the UK, the NBL will be shown live on Sky Sports, and gives fans a chance to get behind their favourite players and brand new teams.

All matches will also be available via digital streaming in the UK and across the world, taking the NBL to a global audience.

The league will feature new rules that present a 'fast, exciting and attacking format' and will consist of six teams, including Milton Keynes, which will boast the country's best players and new, emerging talent.

The NBL matches will be played to abbreviated scoring including an intriguing tie break set, with final format testing being completed in the next few weeks.

Five matches will be played in each clash, men's and women's singles, and mixed, men's and women's doubles.

With the games faster than ever, it is hoped that the non-stop new format will open the sport up to new audiences.

The NBL kicks off on October 6 with monthly match nights through to April 2015. This will then be followed by a one day knock-out competition featuring the top four teams in June.

Joining Milton Keynes will be Birmingham Lions (University of Birmingham), Team Derby (University of Derby), Loughborough Sport (University of Loughborough), UoN Badminton (University of Nottingham), and Surrey Smashers (University of Surrey).

The teams will play against each other once, in a mixture of home and away matches, and will purchase players in an auction format on June 2 with each squad being eight strong.

Team GB Olympians and Team England players will be eligible for selection and teams will also have the ability to buy European and international talent.

BADMINTON England Chief Executive Adrian Christy said: "I am incredibly excited to announce the launch of the first professional badminton league in the UK.

"Badminton is booming in this country and the NBL gives fans a chance to get behind a team and support their favourite players.

"This amazing new project will present our sport in such an exciting way – the fastest racket sport just got even faster.

"It will not only showcase our current players but provide a real inspiration for younger players to want to be part of in the future."

BADMINTON England's ambassador for the NBL, Nathan Robertson, an Olympic silver medallist and former world champion, added: "Players are right behind the NBL. It is a game changer for our sport. The modifications to the rules mean games will be faster than ever."

More details on the MK team will be announced soon.

MK Dons midfielder DARREN POTTER writes exclusively for MK News

OUR good away form continues – that's six out of the last seven games we've won away from home after beating Coventry 2-1.

It's difficult to put your finger on why it's such a chalk and cheese situation with our home and away form, but it was another good win on Saturday and the lads played very well, so we fully deserved the victory.

It's been strange this season – just when you think Peterborough are going to kick on and stamp their authority on the last play-off spot they've faltered but if they beat Gillingham [yesterday night] and go six points clear then you fancy that would just about see it through for them.

But you never know, and you've just got to cling on to the hope that they falter again and while you're in the race you've got to keep trying.

While it is mathematically possible you've got to keep going and pick up as many points as you can because you never know what's going to happen.

Dele Alli's goal against Coventry was great and he's obviously very capable of doing stuff like that.

In many ways it's only his introductory season but it's his first real taste of first team football on a consistent level and he has done himself no harm at all.

If you look at the results obviously playing away on Saturday would be better for us but I think something just needs to click for us here at home and Saturday at home to Crawley could be the turning point. I know the lads are really geared up towards it, they're working hard and I'm sure they will be ready to put in a good performance on Saturday.

I follow most leagues around Europe but I like to look back and see how Liverpool are doing and at the moment they're riding high at the top of the division and hopefully they can get their first league victory in many years.

To win nine in a row isn't bad going by anybody's standards and they're on the crest of a wave at the moment.

I think they'll take all three points against Man City on Sunday and if they do they'll win the league.

Dan close to podium

THROUGH THE FIELD: Daniel Ricciardo

DANIEL Ricciardo managed to climb nine places up the grid from his start position to finish fourth in the Bahrain Grand Prix on Sunday.

After qualifying third, he was forced to start in 13th on account of his ten place grid penalty for an unsafe release after a pit stop in Malaysia last week.

But Red Bull Racing's Ricciardo moved up the field impressively enough, and while he was not able to surpass the all-conquering Mercedes duo or Force India's Sergio Perez, he was able to score some significant points for the Tilbrook outfit.

"We got close to the podium today, I think within half a second, so I was doing all I could," Ricciardo said.

"The car came to me as the race went on and I was happy with how I moved up through the pack, so a good day."

Ricciardo even passed reigning world champion and team-mate Sebastian Vettel on his run, and he admitted it was good fun to race the German on lap 16.

"It was hard but fair and we left each other room," he said.

"That's what we want from each other and we discussed it beforehand, we're racers and that's what we enjoy doing."

Vettel was left disappointed with his weekend, despite gaining four places from his start of tenth to come home sixth.

"Daniel proved that there was a little bit more to get from the car today, I couldn't really get to that bit, so I'm not so happy with my day," said Vettel.

"For some reason we seemed to be really slow on the straights, and not just against the Mercedes."

Red Bull Team principal Christian Horner said: "Daniel put in a great drive and, with another lap, possibly could have made it to the podium.

"It was good to see them [Ricciardo and Vettel] both racing each other cleanly.

"We got a good haul of points today and we now have a couple of days testing to try and further close that gap to Mercedes."

Lewis Hamilton won the race for Mercedes ahead of his team-mate Nico Rosberg, with the latter leading from the Brit overall after three races.

Vettel is sixth overall with Ricciardo tenth, while defending constructors' champions Red Bull are fourth in the team standings, with Mercedes already 67 points ahead of second placed Force India following their superb start.

The next Grand Prix is in China a week on Sunday.

ICE HOCKEY

Lightning eye city return

HEADING HOME: MK Lightning

MK LIGHTNING head coach Nick Poole is looking forward to tackling the English Premier League next season when the team will return home.

Lightning have had to play all their games on the road this season due to refurbishment at Planet Ice, with the Coventry Skydome serving as their home from home.

Poole is now looking forward to reuniting the team for a crack at silverware in the city in 2014/15.

"Things have to be decided over the summer but I'll be here again and looking to get most of the guys back," said Poole.

"For us to be back in Milton Keynes will be great for us and for ice hockey in general."

Poole planned to watch the play-off finals which took place this weekend, with Basingstoke Bison reigning supreme to back up their English Premier League Cup final success, which came against Lightning.

Michael Farn, defenceman, said that at the start of the season, reaching a cup final and being amongst the top four all campaign would have represented a success, but he couldn't hide his disappointment at getting knocked out of the play-offs at the quarter final stage to Swindon.

"At the start of the season if someone had said we would be in a cup final, and we'd be challenging for the league until the last four weeks of the season, most people would have been happy with that," said Farn.

"But looking back there are a couple of games against teams below us in the league where we didn't show up.

"Telford got the better of us and Swindon beat us in the quarter final, so that was disappointing."

Grant McPherson said that the extra travel to Coventry probably impacted on the team's fitness, with Lightning only being able to train once a week.

But he said he was looking forward to getting back to Planet Ice next season, and after the disappointing loss to Swindon, the Scottish forward is raring to go.

"We all knew it was going to be a tough year and it didn't disappoint," he said. "It was a shame how it ended, but that makes us all the more focused."

Knight riders double up

MK KNIGHTS began their Midland Development League season with two victories over the weekend.

On Saturday the city riders claimed a fine 28-8 away win at Rye House Raiders with Alec Wright (five plus three bonus points), Niall Strudwick (seven plus one), skipper Jez Pestell (a full maximum of nine) and Sam Chapman (seven plus two) scoring the Knights' points.

Sunday saw the Knights complete the double success with a 21-14 win over Stoke Spitfires at this season's home venue of Mildenhall Speedway.

The Milton Keynes scorers were Joe Exley with four, Studwick with three and Pestell and Chapman with seven apiece.

Pestell put in a captain's performance across the weekend, ably supported by Studwick and Chapman, with Wright and Exley last minute guests. Knights next host Coventry on April 20.

DOUBLING UP: Niall Studwick and Joe Exley

Dons 'the most injury hit team in league' – Robbo

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

MK DONS' injury crisis has deepened after Dele Alli was ruled as a doubt for Saturday's League One clash at home to Crawley Town.

The midfielder, who turns 18 on Friday, scored a spectacular goal as Dons beat Coventry 2-1 on Saturday to keep their faint play-off bid alive but manager Karl Robinson said he could miss out this weekend through a hip problem and fatigue.

Stephen Gleeson is also a doubt after he rolled his ankle blocking a shot on his first day back in training on Monday, and with Darren Potter, Ben Reeves and Dean Bowditch all out of action, Dons are facing a midfield injury crisis.

Robinson has had to fight fires all season, and he admits it has been a frustrating year on the injury front.

"This is the most injury hit squad in the league," said Robinson.

"We only have three players available from the last time we played Crawley on Boxing Day, which wasn't long ago, so how can we still compete doing this?

"We're still in this because of the players' appetite for the cause and a lot of people working hard.

"I want to be judged on my best team but as a manager I'm not getting judged on my best team.

"We're literally patching teams up but it's been a tremendous test and the staff have been unbelievable.

"We've had to put an extra two beds in the treatment room – we had five and now we've got seven."

Luke Chadwick is one player who could have helped solve that crisis, but with him loving his time on loan at boyhood club Cambridge United, Robinson said he always wanted to do right by his players.

"Chaddy had to go for the right reasons, and I will do right for my players even if it doesn't help me," he said.

The Coventry win meant Dons have won five in a row on their travels, a fascinating statistic when you consider they haven't scored in their last five home games – something Robinson has a theory on.

"The pitch is horrendous and we play in a certain way," he said.

"Teams sit off us here and we've been condensed in our own space.

"Away from home it's open, we get them on the counter.

"But, let's be honest, other than Izale McLeod's goal against Coventry, away from home we've been scoring set pieces and defenders have scored so we've had a massive problem scoring goals away, and if we don't put it right this year we'll put it right in the summer."

Despite the poor home form, Robinson would not wish for the Crawley game to be an away tie as he believes the fans deserve to see a win at stadiummk.

His side need every point they can get with Saturday's results leaving Dons one place outside the play-offs with five to play, three points adrift of Peterborough United who had the chance to extend that gap to six with a game in hand at home to Gillingham last night.

"I want to play here in front of our fans and they deserve a win," said Robinson. "They've still come out in their thousands and supported their team, and they're still singing when we've been beaten."

Robinson also praised Daniel Powell's recent performances, following public criticism he has given the winger.

"I thought Powelly was excellent for us on Saturday," he said.

Bletchley just one win away from clinching league – with MK up next

VICTORY for Bletchley RFC in their massive local derby with Milton Keynes this Saturday will see them capture the Southern Counties North title and secure an immediate promotion back to South West One East.

Bletchley, who were forced into making five changes to their line up, beat High Wycombe 17-3 at home on Saturday to keep within two points of current leaders Aylesbury, who beat third placed Thatcham 28-12.

But that was the last game of Aylesbury's season, with Bletchley travelling to fifth placed Milton Keynes this weekend before taking on Swindon College Old Boys next week, the bottom club who have won just once all season.

It means that Stu Van Rooyen's men need just one more win from those games to secure the title after relegation last season.

Wycombe broke the deadlock with a penalty in the 10th minute, but Paul Mellon beat two visiting defenders to cross the line for a try in the 20th minute to give Bletchley a 5-3 lead at half-time.

In the second half, veteran Van Rooyen collected the restart and made a good 45 yards with the ball in hand, breaking through a couple of tackles in the process before off-loading to John Kirwan in support.

Kirwan ran in down the left wing to score Bletchley's second try of the game to make it 10-3.

Bletchley piled on the pressure from the restart, and Van Rooyen crossed the try line to score Bletchley's third try of the match in the 48th minute, which was converted for 17-3.

Both sets of players tired towards the end, so 17-3 it remained.

Elsewhere, Olney beat Leicester Forest 17-13 in Midlands Two East (South), and should finish fifth.

They play champions Leighton Buzzard in their final game of the season on Saturday.
